Goose Has Place of Honor in Train of Returning Fresh Air Conquerors.

HIS LIFE A BAD RISK

Central New York City Has Record Year in Work Through the Efforts of the Rev. Leon A. Losey.

They came back from Auburn yesterday, bag and baggage, fruit and poultry if a live goose is poultry. Incidentally, with the goose came a bag of grain, wherewith to fatten it, and by this time some back yard has been turned into a temporary goose run. One day there is going to be high feasting in some corner of the house that goes with that back

When they return to New York next morning Auburn's Fresh Air season will be at an end for this year.

For several years this Central New York city has been an active co-operator the Tribune Fresh Air Fund's work. In 1810 seventy-seven children were given outings in that region through the efforts of the Auburn committee; in 1911 the son 260 fortnight outings have been provided-120 weeks of sunshine, fresh air, popular phrase-"Do it now." flowers, birds, friends and everything else who lives where poor children must live ton as colonel of the 6th Massachusetts in New York.

The progress shown in Auburn's Fresh Air work in the last four years is due lefty to the secretary and moving spirit of the committee, the Rev. Leon A. Losey. When he took up the work in 1910 interest in it was at a very low ebb, and that season it was difficult to persuade the ople to receive the Tribune's little protegés. But Mr. Losey kept at it that year, and went at it harder the next year, and harder still the third year, with the success indicated by the figures already quoted. This year he has given ctically his whole summer to the work, and many a tot of the New York streets capital until reinforcements came, all the owes his outing amid the green fields men volunteering to remain for a month wes his outling amid the green fields around Auburn to that fact. With characteristic energy Mr. Losey is already ernor Andrew of Massachusetts then auplanning next season's campaign.
